Art Unit: 2815

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 21-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no antecedent basis in the original disclosure for the language "equal to or smaller than 1.334 μm ". The figure 8 embodiment shows a thickness of 1.334 μm and the specification teaches a total thickness, L, of 1.3 μm for figure 4, however, there is no language in the original disclosure reciting "equal to or smaller than 1.334 μm " anywhere. Furthermore, there is no exact antecedent basis for the new language "takes the value of $-1\mu\text{m}/\%$ " coupled with the "equal to or smaller than 1.334 μm ". The description of figure 4 states that $L=1.3$. Presumably, then, the 1.334 μm value of the figure 8 embodiment does not agree or correspond to figure 4 where $L=1.3$ μm . . In any event, the new language of claim 21 is new matter. All claims are dependent on the new matter of claim 21 and are accordingly rejected. Note also that the original disclosure sets a limit for $L=1.3$ in the figure 4 description, however, it does not appear that $L=1.3$ is intended to be an absolute limit (hence the figure 8 embodiment). In any event, the language "equal to or smaller than..." does not have original support.

Claims 21-36, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Svilans, of record.

The previous rejection is maintained in view of the new matter language not considered to be controlling structure. Again, Svilans teaches layer thickness control to enable smooth structure.

Applicant's arguments filed 6/27/05 been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The new matter issues have been addressed above. Arguments that Svilans does not or cannot meet the formula of claim 21 is unconvincing of patentability as the claim is considered new matter and thus not patentable.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
